Northwest Wildlife Preservation Society
invites your school to take part in our wildlife education programs!

We currently have openings for our Indoor Wildlife Workshop program in the 2019/2020 school year. This interactive program will be tailored to the audience's age and learning priorities. Structured as a 1-hour in-class presentation, the program features a slideshow of engaging wildlife photography to compliment the lesson taught by our Educator, followed by participatory activities including touchable wildlife biological artifacts like skulls and antler, which facilitate an active learning environment.

Programs are FREE for inner-city and low income schools. A $100 honorarium is requested from those able to help support our charity's efforts to preserve wildlife.

Available program topics:

- Bears
- Bats
- Salmon
- Urban Wildlife
- Wildlife of British Columbia
- Endangered Species
