TCO² is a series of interactive workshops focusing on the prevention of sexual exploitation of children and youth. We discuss the warning signs of an exploitive relationship, online exploitation, peer-to-peer exploitation, the connection to gangs, recruitment tactics pimps use to manipulate victims, and much more! The presentations are designed for youth and use multi-media to encourage students to talk about this issue and walk away with practical tips for real life scenarios. Workshops build on one another as a youth progresses through the school system, with the goal of increasing social responsibility, empowerment and empathy.
